Learning Lunch for Planners, Preservationists, and Developers

On Thursday, 28th February, the Rome-Floyd Planning Department, in cooperation with the Northwest Georgia Regional Commission, will hold a planner's lunch at Old Main School in Rome, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Leigh Burns, Outreach Program Manager, Preservation Planner, & Certified Local Government Program Coordinator, Historic Preservation Division, Georgia Department of Natural Resources will speak on historic preservation, planning, downtown development, and tourism. 1.5 CMU will be available for this session.

Kevin McAuliff, Environmental Planner with the Northwest Georgia Regional Commission; Secretary of the Whitfield County Historic Preservation Commission and of the non-profit Save Dalton's Battlefields; and member of the Administrative Committee of the Dalton Historic Preservation Commission and the board of Chieftains Museum will talk about a grassroots effort in Whitfield County to purchase and preserve important Civil War battlefield sites. 1.5 CMU will be available for this presentation.

During lunch, we will have a presentation on the history and importance of Old Main School (circa 1934), and the recent renovation for administrative offices and programs that serve disadvantaged youth in the community.

The cost of the event is $16 per person. Please register by filling out the registration form below and mailing it to Rome-Floyd Planning Department, P.O. Box 1433, Rome, Georgia 30162 along with a check made out to the City of Rome.
